For all the women especially, who have made a positive difference to me and to those dearest to me, and who will continue to do that for all of us. And for God and all the good people who have donated and/or will donate their time, work, play, prayers, good graces, money, and other resources to my family, friends, and me, and to good results for us all. Also, for all those prescient beings past, present, and future, who continue to inspire us to think much more clearly about who and what we believe in.

“David has woven a tapestry of the human spirit that transcends cultural, geographic, and ideological boundaries. In a world that generally pulls our attention in too many directions at once, [he] invites us to take time to savor the everyday, a welcome change of pace.

– Emeritus UW-La Crosse Art Photography Prof. Roger A. Grant, from RAG's Introduction to David Joseph Marcou’s book “Pictures of Human Life”.
