Spirit of America
Vol. 20

Everyday Beauty in Human Beings.

“David [Joseph] Marcou has woven a tapestry of the human spirit that transcends cultural, geographic, and ideological boundaries.”
- Emeritus Art Photography Prof. Roger A. Grant in his Introduction for DJM’s “Pictures of Human Life.”

- Emeritus British Journal of Photography Editor Jon Tarrant commenting for “American Eyes.”

“Spirit of America, Vol. 20” is David Joseph Marcou’s 101st book; his books include the 18-vol. “Human Character” series and the SA series. He graduated St. James and Aquinas Schools in La Crosse, UW-Madison (BA-1973), University of Iowa (MA-1978), and UM-Columbia (BJ-1984). He edited the Adams-Friendship weeklies in 1990 and was La Crosse correspondent for the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel 13 years. He also taught adults writing and photography 11 years for Western Technical College. His works have twice been nominated for Pulitzers (including his play “Remembering Davy Crockett”), and twice nominated for POYi awards. Many public repositories house his works, including the Wisconsin Historical Society, and La Crosse Public Library Archives, both including online galleries of his works; various Smithsonian (SI) Archives, British National Portrait Gallery, and National Assembly Library of Korea. His photos have been in many public shows too, including the SI National Museum of American History Archives Center’s “Gift of the Artist” group-show curated by SI Archivist David Haberstich. David Marcou also has an online gallery of 3,600 of his photos on the UK Digital Photographer Website. His son, Matt A. Marcou, an Army Special Ops veteran and now nationally-recognized Engineering student, is married to Jessica Amarnek Marcou, a successful artist and university teacher.
